LITTLE UNDERSTOOD

Critics of Administration Are Not Informed as to Its Provisions.

Someone said that when Roosevelt All tell you plainly the kidneys left the White House and went to Africa to shoot lions, he left a white Taft's administration in the tariff. Someone said Roosevelt then predicted that the tariff would break the political back of his successor. This ble for most of the hostile criticism is presumably nothing more than fa-

The president dictated this speech on a train between two stations and it was sent out by the press with correspondingly little care, and indeed, the papers received it in all kinds of shapes. President Taft admitted that had he had time to consider this speech before its delivery, as he said he should have done, he would have clarified several passages. He still believes, however, the Payne Act, although it has its shortcomings, contains less to be criticised than its predecessors, and it did, as a whole, elephant on the hands of President revise the existing schedules downward, official tables showing an average lowering of rates of 8 per cent.

The Payne Tariff bill was responsidirected toward President Taft, since he has been in his office and yet, this measure was a substantial gain to the country. ECONOMY IS WATCHWORD

President Taft Has Cut Expenses During His Term.

President Taft believes that the business of the American people, which is the United States government, can be run more economically. He expects an economy commission will point out ways to effect a copsiderable saving in many of the depart-

The three years of President Taft's administration has proved that economy is quite possible and the president has practised the new policy succensfully. Upon taking office, President Taft warned every cabinet member, as well as the beads of bureaus, that they would be held individually responsible for cutting the expenditures under their control.

On July 1st, 1909, the Taft administration faced a deficit of $56,000,000. One year later, this deficit had been changed into a surplus of $14,000,000 and by July 1st, 1911, the surplus had risen to $47,000,000. The normal increase of Federal expenditures is about 4 per cent, each year. Yet the expenditures, which were $662,000,000 during the fiscal year ending June 30, 1909, shrunk within the following year to $654,000,000, an actual decrease instead of the normal increase. Perhaps the best known economy effected was the wiping out of the annual deficit in the Postal Department and another was the elimination of wide-spread frauds in the customs service. The scaling down process for the fiscal year of 1911 involved cutting the estimates made by the department heads $50,000,000.

HELP FOR HOMESTEADERS

Leniency For Man Trying To Make Home Is Recommended.

A radical change in the homestead laws that will be of marked benefit to settlers is the plan of President Taft. Leniency for the man who is trying to make a home on idle lands of the state, included in the various reclamation projects, is what President Tait

He intends to modify the law so that the settler upon land being reclaimed need not take up his residence immediately upon filing, but may wait two years before living on his land. During these two years, however, cultivation must be carried on. By the time the settler must commence living on his land, he can, by reason of this modification of the law, make a living from his farm. This will do away with two weary years during which, under the present law, the homesteader usually finds it necessary to live partly on hope.

The present provision, under which land is to be paid for in ten annual installments will be so modified as to allow a patent to be issued for the land at the end of five years cuitiva-tion, and three years occupation. The homesteaders generally will welcome this change in the law, relieving them, as it does, from all enforced residence on the undeveloped farm lands during the period when it is bardest to make a living. At the end of five years the new law will furnish the settler with a title upon which he can borrow money with which to continue the development of
